

FLAMBOYAN ARTS FUND

Strengthening the Arts in Puerto Rico

ABOUT THE FUND

Award-winning composer, lyricist, and actor Lin-Manuel Miranda, his family, and Hamilton have partnered with the Flamboyant Foundation to create the Flamboyant Arts Fund. As critical components of Puerto Rico's tourism, arts and culture are pivotal to the vitality and the economic recovery of the island. This limited-term fund will be dedicated to supporting institutions, arts groups, and independent artists to ensure that the arts and culture continue to flourish through the rebuilding of Puerto Rico. Through this initiative, we will also advocate for public and private funding for the arts to ensure that momentum continues beyond the scope of the fund.

Strengthening the arts community and preserving cultural connections in Puerto Rico.

At the heart of Puerto Rican culture is a vibrant expression of humanity through the arts. Be it theater, dance, music, literature or visual arts, the community has relied on the arts to tell the story of its history – and the story of everyday life.

In this time of social and economic change following Hurricane Maria, the arts can build hope, stimulate the economy and enrich people's souls.

Research has demonstrated that the arts provide immeasurable benefits to students, both socially and academically. Yet many arts institutions and artists on the island are at risk. By stabilizing the arts community, we can ensure families and communities have spaces for shared connection and creative expression. Together, we can help ensure that arts and communities are not just surviving, but are thriving.
